Nicola S Morgan

Behaviour Management and Family Engagement Consultant

Nicola S Morgan is an international behaviour management and family engagement consultant, teacher and author. She has over twenty years of experience working in a variety of early years, primary and secondary settings, including mainstream and special needs schools.

During this time she developed a reputation for successfully managing the most challenging classes and pupils as well as motivating and inspiring staff to help implement change and ensure sustainability. Consequently, she now runs training courses for schools/parents and is often invited to speak at key conferences on effective ways to help manage pupils within school and ways to create a positive learning environment. Nicola is also an International Values Education (IVET) approved trainer, an NLP Master Practitioner and is a published author in the field.

About the Conference:

One of the greatest challenges facing schools is how to improve school attendance not least because of its critical importance for school inspections.

Therefore, it is timely to hold a National Conference to consider and discuss not only the nature and impact of these challenges but also to provide some evidence on best practice and new approaches. The Conference will present the latest research evidence on improving school attendance and discuss a wide range of related issues such as safeguarding, disaffection, registration, inspection, penalty notices and how to improve your school's attendance all presented by experts and practitioners from outstanding and best practice institutions. There will be ample opportunity for questions, discussion and networking.

This Conference is appropriate for a wide range of potential delegates including head teachers, deputies, SLT and middle managers, staff with responsibility for school attendance within schools, attendance officers, education welfare staff, education social workers, home-school relationship and liaison officers, specialist classroom assistants, learning school mentors and all those with a professional interest in improving school attendance.

The specialist inputs will feature contributions from well-known specialists in the field including Professor Ken Reid OBE, Victoria Franklin and Nicola S Morgan.

Professor Reid will begin the conference by questioning the rationale behind some of the existing government policy and practice and will tease out best practice from the evidence of both UK and International research as well as examine what is happening inside schools.

Who should attend?

- Headteachers
- Deputy and Assistant Headteachers
- Education Welfare Officers
- Heads of Year
- SENCOs
- Inclusion Managers
- Pastoral Leaders
- Family Engagement Officers
- Local Authorities

What delegates said about previous NSM Training & Consultancy conferences:

“ Really enjoyed today's conference and will go back to school with a wealth of information and can't wait to share with staff at work and start implementing strategies. I have learnt a lot from Ken Reid he was fantastic! ”

(K Kumar, Small Heath School)

“ Really good conference, Not only did we get a really comprehensive history of attendance issues, we came away understanding our statutory duties, Ofsted expectations and crucially many ideas and practical advice that would be easy to implement but would have a very positive impact. I'm really glad I came and would recommend to any attendance lead. ”

(T Lane, Christ the King Catholic Primary School)

“ Thank you for a very professional, informative day. It really has given me some fantastic ideas to raise my attendance. ”

(J Traynor, Ince CE Primary School)

“ Excellent. Really interesting – lots to take on board and think about. Key speakers were knowledgeable, providing strategies and key information that can be used and put into practice straight away. Thank you! ”

(P Pemberton, Wellacre Academy)

“ Very informative and so useful to receive a presentation from someone who actually works in a school and has proven experience in raising school attendance. ”
